that the lent estts mentioned in the statement can be withdrawn and the Concerned Depts can make their own arrangements for the discharge of duties entrusted to them & that the total staff retrenched may be absorbed by the Concerned Depts or they will be absorbed in existing vacancies in the Police Deptt as & when they occur It is observed that certain estts have been continued permanently or on a temporary basis for a long temporary estts the I G P could make specific proposals for the discontinuance of such lent estts It is for consideration whether it is necessary to discontinue the entire lent estt, some of which have been in existence for such a long time The I G P's proposal is for perusal & orders

the ground that most of the lent staff are not doing the Police duties, but either they have been acting as Watch & Ward or as symbol of honour Neither of these duties are part of police duties He also says that the administrative control of the lent staff although resting with the Police Department is under the guidance of the Officers who belong to other Depts Thus the administrative efficiency is becoming less

6) He therefore suggests that the lent establishment should be withdrawn and concerned departments may be asked to make their own arrangements for the Watch & Ward duties. He also suggests that the total staff retrenched may be absorbed by the concerned departments or they will be absorbed in the existing vacancies in the Police department as and when they occur He has enclosed a statement of 25 items consisting of 1 P I 3 S Is , 1 Jemedar, 15 Daffedars, 97 Constables, 2 Naiks, and 9 men of the M A R P lent to different Departments and institutions.

7) The Chief Secretary while s
of Watch & Ward Dept. section in each department was of the view that the cost of the lent establishment was being debited to the Police Budget But according to the report of the I.G.P. entire cost of these lent establishments is met by the concerned departments. Hence, on that ground the suggestion does not stand The grounds advanced by the I G.P for the withdrawal of the lent establishment are mainly (1) the duties the lent lent establishment are performing are of the nature of the mere Watch & Ward, (2) the administrative efficiency is coming down because there is dual control, and (3) the morale of the Police Dept comes down by deputing persons for watch & ward to other Depts.

8) Very recently the question of withdrawal of the lent establishment of the Revenue Survey was dealt with The Revenue Secretary was of the view that this was a permanent arrangement that was going on for a long number of years and it may not be desirable to withdraw the Police and therefore the existing practice may be continued Some of the items indicate that they are permanent.

9) Although it could be stated that it is desirable to withdraw the police and request the various depts , and institutions to make their own arrangements for Watch & Ward and other duties and the Depts may request for Police help only when it is absolutely needed on a temporary basis, In view of the long and permanent arrangements already made and the cost of the lent staff being borne by those depts it would not be correct to immediately withdraw the lent staff on a whole sale basis As and when proposals come up for continuance of the lent establishment these questions could be tackled one item after another.

10) Even Mysore Bank, I T I., H A L. have requisitioned the services of the Police personnel. If one general order is passed for withdrawing the personnel from the

A similar practice has been in vogue in our State for a long time, a sign of honour conferred & incidentally personal protection in the case of very high ranking officers and in other cases for purposes of security.

Discontinuance of Lent Police Establishments

1) I write to state that 19 Officers and 97 men of the Civil Police and 2 officers and 9 men of the M A R P are lent to other Government Departments, Banks, Temples and Mutts and other Privat institutions I enclose herewith, statements showing the purpose for which the staff has been sanctioned and the number and date of the Government Order sanctioning the establishment Many of the establishments are permanent and only a few are temporary and are continued from time to time The entire cost of these lent establishments is met by the concerned departments Nevertheless there are good reasons for the discontinuance of some of them I wish therefore to bring for the consideration of Government the necessity of withdrawing some of these establishments, the concerned departmental authorities being advised to make their own arrangements in place of the Police

2) It may be seen from the statement that the following are the nature of the duties for which the Police Staff has been lent--(1) Watch & ward duty and guarding of stores (2) maintenance of order at the Cash Collection Centres (3) prevention of public nuisances, vending of fruits by the side of drains etc, (4) guarding the valuables in temples and mutts (5) Security and intelligence work (6) guarding treasure Leaving apart the staff employed for security and intelligence work and for guarding treasure in Banks and Treasuries, the other duties are not strictly legitimate duties of the Police and can be attended to by other private agencies as well. For watch and ward duty and for guarding department stores, private watchmen can be employed and for sanitary purposes, the concerned Health Department can have their own staff because there is no Police work in those duties In respect of duties at temples and mutts, it is however stated in Government Letter No H 853/Pol 422-43-3 dated 22-4-1950 from the Chief Secretary, that the guards are intended not merely to guard valuable properties that are owned by those institutions but have also been looked upon as a token of honour Nevertheless, I consider that these duties are not Police duties and so the concerned authorities may make their own arrangements

3) Generally, the Police are meant for public duties wherein maintenance of law and order is involved and for prevention and detection of crime The latter part of the work is completely absent in many of the lent establishments as they are not at all investigating centres Even Law and Order duties are absent in some, such as the Revenue Survey Office Guard, the Insurance Office Guard and the guards in the Electrical Department In some of the establishments in the Public Works Department, there may be occasions for the Police to maintain law and order in the labour colonies, if they are deputed on that work But guarding of departmental stores or watch over the labour employed on project works is not a piece of Police duty ~~Prevention of nuisances is also a non-Police duty~~.

4) Employment of the Police on such non-Police duties is not conducive to the maintenance of the morale and discipline of the Police Organisation in an effective manner, apart from the fact that it lowers the prestige of the department ' Such duties demoralise the Police personnel and contribute to a very great extent to the inefficiency of the Force ~~As the lent establishments form a part of the Police Organisation of the concerned district and are likely to be changed periodically in course of time, a feeling of easy going life and non-Police mind will be~~

~~developed among the personnel which undoubtedly deteriorates the Police as a whole~~ The Police Department is a technical organisation and trained men of the department cannot in the interest of the department, be lent for work in other spheres and in places where the Police Officers have no full responsibility

5) No doubt ~~there~~ is, ~~however~~, provision in Sections 18 and 19 of the ~~Myx~~ Mysore Police Act, for employing the Police at the request of persons or near large works But ~~on such occasions~~ the intention is that the personnel are employed to keep the peace or to perform ~~other~~ Police duties and also for such periods as may be deemed necessary, ~~i.e~~ but , not permanently Under Section 48 of the Act, it is the duty of every Police Officer to prevent the commission of public nuisances But it is not contemplated that he has to be under the supervision and guidance of any ~~other~~ department other than the Police, i e , the Corporation, Municipality. P W D . etc In this connection. I invite reference to letter No L 12123/CM 24-55-175 dated 27-12-1955 of the Secretary to Government, Education and L S G Departments (Copy enclosed), in support of the argument that the Police cannot be entrusted with the work of maintenance of sanitation and that the prpper agency is the Health Department I also enclose herewith a copy of letter No.Fl 2943/G F 6-54-10 dated 5-11-1955 from the same Secretary, where Government have been pleased to state that they agree ~~in~~ with the proposal for appointing non-policemen for watch and ward duty at the Cash Section of the Insurance Department

The administrative control of the lent staff however rests with the Police Department but when the actual work of the Police on the s pot is under the guidance of officers who belong to other departments the administrative control will be not very effective It is also an accepted principle that proper and effective enforcement of duties in a department is possible if the staff meant for the purpose is appointed by the concerned department itself and controlled by it, instead of having dual-control over the staff

7) I may also invite reference to the D O letter No.P 11476 dated 19-1-1949 from the Chief Secretary to Government to the Inspector General of Police, pointing out that though the total expenditure of the Police Establishment seems high, it is to some extent due to expenditure debitable to other departments being debited to "Police" and making the suggestion whether it would not be better if each department maintained watch and ward section absorbing theexisting Police force lent to them.

8) In the light of all these facts, I consider that the lent establishments mentioned in statement (1) enclosed, can be withdrawn and the concerned departments can make their own arrangements for the discharge of duties entrusted to them The total staff retrenched may be absorbed by the concerned departments or they will be absorbed in existing vacancies in this Department as and when they occur

I request early orders of Government in the matter

Yours faithfully,

With reference to the correspondence resting with your letter No C2 P R 22 C 32/55-56 dated 16-6-1955, on the above subject, I am directed to state that after a review of the whole case Government are not for entrusting this work any more to the Police On the other hand the proper agency would be the Health Department staff

2 The Police staff in the Mysore City Municipality may therefore be discontinued Necessary action may be taken to employ sanitary staff for all such purposes, proposals being sent for the same for orders of Government

Sir,

Re-Sm

Discontinuance of lent Police establishments
Ref'-Your letter No.H A.2271/Pol.dated 26-6-1956

With reference to the above, I write to state that the Inspectors General of Police of Madras and Bombay States were requested to intimate whether the system of lending Police to Government Departments, Local bodies, private institutions and persons and Temples and Mutts was in vogue in their States and also to furnish copies of the rules in that behalf They were also requested to intimate the duties on which the lent Police were expected to be employed. Copies of the replies received thereon with necessary enclosures are enclosed herewith for reference.

The system of lending Police to Government Department and private institutions and persons is in vogue in Madras and Bombay It is not mentioned in the rules in vogue in those States whether the lent Police can be employed by private Companies for watch and ward purposes The duties on which the lent Police could be employed are stated in sections 13 and 14 of the Madras Police Act 1859 and sections 47 and 48 of the Bombay Police Act 1951 - Copies enclosed for ready reference They are (1) Keeping the peace (2) preserving order or (3) other Police duties. Section 18 of the Mysore Police Act is the corresponding section in force in Mysore and the duties mentioned therein are similar to those mentioned above Whether the Police can be lent for purposes other than maintenance of law and order and peace such as watch and ward is the point at issue and it has been dealt with in sufficient length in my letter of even number dated 13-3-1956. I request early orders of Government regarding discontinuing the lent establishments noted in the statement enclosed to my letter dated 13-3-56.

Subject ---Lent Police Establishments.

The practice of supplying Policeman to other Government Departments, Municipalities, Private Institutions, Banks, Individuals etc., as mentioned in your letter under reference is in vouge in the State of Bombay. The cost for supplying the Policemen is calculated on the following basis --

1. Recoveries made on account of guards supplied to private companies, Banks, Universities, Mills and other Private bodies -

Pay.	Average pay.
Dearness Allowance.	At prevalent rate.
House Rent Allowance.	At sanctioned rate(Rs.7/- for a Police constable and Rs.10/- for a Head Constable in the Greater Bombay Police Force and or a rates sanctioned for the locality).
Clothing charges	At sanctioned rate. The present rate is Rs. 43-8-0 per annum for a Head Constable or a Police Constable in the case of Greater Bombay Police Force or Rs.15/- per annum for either post in the mofussil.
Free Passage concession.	At Rs.3-8-0 per annum per Head Constable or Police Constable in the case of the Greater Bombay Police Force or at Rs.-13-0 per month in the case of the Dist.Police Force and Rs.1-13-0 per month in the case of the Railway Police.
Cost of ammunition for practice.	Rs.1-8-0 per annum for each Head Constable or Police Constable in the case of armed men only.
Supervision charges.	At 6% on average cost(including pay, special pay Dearness Allowance, Compensatory allowance and House Rent Allowance).
Leave contribution.	At 11% to 12½/on pay and Dearness Allowance
Pension contribution.	At 9% on the maximum of the grade.
Deputation allowance.	At Rs.5/- per month where this allowance is given.(This allowance is treated as a compensatory allowance payable only when a change of Station is involved and covers the entire period, however extended, for which a Policeman may be lent to a private person).

2. Recoveries made on account of guards supplied to Departments of the Government of India, Departments of this State Government, Semi-Government Departments etc., except the Postal and Rail Departments.

These are made in the manner indicated in 1 above whenever directed by Government, except that supervision charge is not levied in the case of guards supplied to Departments of the Government of India.

3. Recoveries made on account of the escorts supplied to the Postal Department.

(a) The supply of Police escorts to the post-Offices whenever cash remittances of and above Rs.10,000/- have to be exchanged with a treasury or a sub-treasury or between post-Offices inter se, is made at half cost.

(b) The supply of Police escort to the Post and Telegraph Department required for cash in transit to and from the the Engineering Divisions and Sub Divisions, valued between Rs.5,000/- and Rs.10,000/- half cost is recovered.

(c) When the escort for cash in transit is supplied for 24 hours or more, full cost thereof is recovered because policemen on duty continuously for 24 hours are required to be given one day off, and

(d) When the escort is provided continuously during a month, the recovery is done on the monthly basis, irrespective of the non-working days, cost being calculated on the daily average ~~basis~~ basis only for occasions when the escort is supplied on different days or for broken periods during a month.

4. Recoveries on account of 'Order Police" supplied to Railways are made on the line indicated in Chapter V of the Bombay Police Manual, Volume II.A.

2. I also enclose copies of Rules 393 (6394) of Bombay Police Manual Volume III, 1950, and Chapter V of Bombay Police Manual Volume II 1950, which indicate the duties and responsibilities in regard to the lent Police and the method of working out the cost and its recovery from employers.

SECTION VI--ADDITIONAL POLICE.

393 Supply of guards or escorts to private individuals or bodies--(1) (a) If Police are needed by private persons to guard their property or keep the peace, they may be supplied by the Superintendent of Police on the terms prescribed by Section 22 of the Bombay District Police Act

(b) When private parties or companies apply for a Police party to escort treasure, the strength should be determined by the officer applied to on a consideration of the amount of treasure and the danger to be apprehended

(c) Armed Police should not be furnished to private individuals, the only exception being when they are temporarily required as an escort for treasure or opium which is being taken through foreign territory in which there exists no objection to the passage of armed Police of India On such occassions a proportion of armed Police should be furnished

(d) Furnishing private individuals, when proceeding on a piligrimage or any other journey, with a Police escort is objectionable

2. It is only in very exceptional cases that a permanent escort is required for the custody of Public Works Department treasure for payments to workmen As a general rule, the Sub-Inspector of Police of the Police Station, through the limits of which the cashier passes, should be requested through the Mamlatdars to make the necessary arrangments for escort.

3. (a) As a general rule, Police supplied to municipalities, private companies and others should be changed at regular intervals, i.e as far as possible every year They should be trained men from the permanent force, and recruits should be entertained in the lowest grades to fill up the temporary vacancies caused by the transfers of such permenent men As soon as regular vacancies occur, the men holding the temporary appointments should be transferred to the permanent vacancies The employment of temporary Policemen as addtional Police has the disadvantage that such men, if employed for a considerable period of years, serve for a long time without becoming eligible for pension.

(b) Where, however, as in the case of the guards supplied to the Security Printing Press, Nasik, and to the various branches of the Imperial Bank of India, the arrangement is a permanent one, the vacancies so casued should be filled up permanently by the enlistment of recruits

(c) When additional Police are required for employment by private companies etc , Superintendents should select men who will obtain some substantial pecuniary advantage from the deputation, which is necessary as a set-off against the inconvenience and pecuniary loss involved in maintaining two separate establishments. Thus a Senior Constable should be detailed for a Head Constable's appointment in the additional Police and so on.

(4) The application for the supply of guards to private individuals or bodies should be in Form No 26 in Appendix I

394. Duties of and control over additional Police - (1) Whenever additional Police are deputed under the preceding Rule, the Distric Superintendent of Police may lay down, in such manner as he thinks fit, the extent to which additional Police employed at the charge of a municipality shall be subject to the orders of the Police Station Officer or other Police authorities in whose jurisdiction they are working In such cases the Policemen, if not directly under the control of their regular Police Officers, tend to become so slack ard untidy as to bring discredit on the regular force by their general appearance. They may also abuse their authority and indulge in petty exactions at the expense of the public, or other forms of illegality, for which the nature of their employment, without the regular control of their departmental superiors, may some times give special opportunities

(2) The District Su erintendent of Police is ultimately responsible for all such matters of discipline and control. He should therefore, consider in every case, where additional Police are deputed by him, whether at the charge of a municipality or otherwise, what steps are necessary or desirable, in the direction indicated in Sub-Rule (1) above, to enable him efficiently to discharge his responsibilities in regard to such additional Police It will usually be necessary to lay down the nature of the duties to be performed by the additional Police, and, in the case of municipalities, to arrive at a clear understanding with the municipal authorities as to the limitations to be imposed on them. Such limitations should include forbidding them to take any more active part in removing encroachments or executing distress warrants than is entailed in accompanying municipal officers to see that they are not obstructed or that no breach of the peace occurs

(3) While it is the duty of the Police to regulate traffic and maintain order at local board and municipal elections, they should not be required to take charge of ballot boxes or to convey them from the polling stations to the Returning Officers Accordingly Police assistance for these purposes should not be given unless, in the case of municipal elections, which are conducted by the municipalities, the local body concerned agrees to pay for the services of the Police and, in the case of local board elections the Collector, who is responsible for the elections, considers that for any special reasons such assistance is necessary.

395 Cost of additional Police - (1) The pay of Police guards or escorts supplied to private companies or private individuals should be recovered in advance by Superintendents of Police and paid into the treasury In addition to the pay, recoveries should be made.—

(a) (i) if the establishment has been sanctioned from a date prior to 1st April 1931, on account of leave and pension contribution at 25 per cent of the average cost of different establishments; (ii) if the establishment has been sanctioned from a date after 1st April 1931, on account of pension contribution with effect from 1st May 1939 at the monthly rate of 9½ per cent of the maximum monthly pay of all the ~~xxxxxxx~~ sanctioned posts (Appendix VII-A of the Bombay Civil Services Rules), i e the maximum pay of the highest grade in cases where there a e different grades and the maximum pay in the case of establishments on time-scales of pay, and on account of leave contribution at the monthly rate of 1½ per cent of the total sacntioned cost or, in the case of time-scales of pay, on the average cost of all the posts concerend.

(b) on account of supervision etc at the rate of 6 per cent of the pay

(Literacy allowance, duty allowance and such other allowances as are termed special pay should be taken into account in calculating pension and leave contribution and supervision charges under clauses (a) and (b) above).

(d) unless free quarters are provided by private companies or individuals concerned, on account of house-rent at the rate sanctioned for the locality

(4) No charge should be made to public departments for Police supplied to them.

(5) Any case in which a Police guard is desired by a Government Department shall be specially submitted for the orders of Government by the officer desiring it

(6) District Magistrate should not save in urgent and exceptional circumstances which should be forthwith reported to Government — requisition guards which have not been authorized by Government When additional guards are requisitioned by the District Magistrates, they should be furnished free of cost and the matter should be reported by the Superintendent of Police to the Inspector-General of Police

(7) When guards are supplied by the Police Department to a railway at the latter's own request, for the performance of duties which might be arranged for by the railway authorities and are not part of ordinary functions of the Police, their cost shall be charged to the railway in same manner as laid down in Chapter V in Vol II

396 Additional Police for disturbed areas - (1) Recommendations for employing additional Police under Section 25(1) of the Bombay District Police Act should be submitted by the District Magistrate through the Range Deputy Inspector-General of Police and the Inspector-General of Police whose opinion, as that of the officer responsible for the general organization of the Police, must always be taken, to Government Any proposals which the Superintendent of Police may have to make should be submitted in the first instance to the District-Magistrate to whom he is subordinate

(2) Whenever any proposal for the establishment of an additional Police post is submitted to Government for sanction, it should be accompanied by information showing the population of the village in which, and at the cost of which, it is proposed to establish the Police post, and the average incidence of the/post will necessitate

/ taxation which the maintenance of the

(3) (a) In all applications for additional Police etc , the Superintendent should report to the District Magistrate how many men are intended to be armed and how many unarmed and also the number and the kind of arms, accoutrements and articles of clothing required They should be all carefully estimated after deducting the articles which can be issued from stores

(b) District Magistrates should address the Inspector-General of Police as regards the arms, accoutrements and clothing with which may be required

(4) Applications for the continued employment of additional Police previously sanctioned should be submitted at least two months before the expiry of the period sanctioned, to enable Government to issue the requisite orders under Section 25 of the Bombay District Police Act beofre the period expires.

(5) It is not necessary to obtain Government orders to the cessation of a post of additional Police at the conclusion of the term for which it is sanctioned Unless a continuation of the term is sanctioned, the temporary employment necessarily terminates at the end of the term

397 Duties and cost of Additional Police in distrubed areas - (1) Section 25 of the Bombay District Police Act empowers Government to sanction the employment of additional Police in any local area which appears to them to be in distrubed or dangerous state, or in which the conduct of the inhabitants or of any particular section of the inhabitants renders it necessary temporarily to increase the strength of the Police Such additional Police must, therefor, be employed only for the maintenance of peace in the locality concerned

Whenever additional Police are sanctioned under Section 25, suitable instructions should invariably be issued by Superintendents of Police with a view to prevent the utilization of the additional Police in an unauthorised manner

(2) The charges should be the same as those laid down in Rule 395, but the recoveries should be made quarterly in advance The mode of assesment and collection of the cost of additional Police is laid down in Section 25 of the Bombay District Police Act
